

STYLE

Bollywood is rocking the churidar-kurta look this season. Last year, it was all about saree with sexy halter necks or sleeveless blouses.

BRINGING BACK THE DAYS OF YORE !

This year, the 50's and 60's came calling and it's the elegant and ethnic looking churidars teamed with flared kurtas and patialas.

If this sounds Greek to you, you are not alone. Mostly it's only Indians and Pakistanis that would know what a churidaar kurta is. The saree? That's an altogether different topic. Everyone today, all over the world, knows what a Sari is. That beautiful 6 yards of fabric that can be draped around so cleverly on a woman, making any plain Jane look like a sultry siren. Practically that's what a Sari really is, don't we agree?

Get the magazine to read more..